Copley School Gardening

800208,RO CD-ROM
2006 0518
This program focuses on Arrowhead Elementary school in Copley, Ohio. The Nature Zone project provides students with the opportunity to experience nature and how it relates to science, math and social studies. Students learn how to thin out plants and how to transplant them. At Arrowhead School, they have transformed their backyard into a wildlife habitat and exciting outdoor classroom. Through the Nature Zone, children are provided with an extensive first hand environmental education, giving them a greater understanding, appreciation and respect for nature. The Nature Zone is used to enhance all aspects of our school curriculum. It provides students with the opportunity to work together cooperatively, learn about pride of ownership and share in stewardship of their own very special project. Seasonal events provide students and parents opportunities for service and fun. The Nature Zone gives students, teachers and the community healthy surroundings in which to learn, relax and play. This project also demonstrates clearly how a group of committed individuals can work together to improve the environment.

800399,RO CD-ROM
27 min 2008 0518

Black Creek Bistro: Father and son

owners of Columbus' Black Creek Bistro are farmers. The vast majority of their supplies are grown on their farm in Canal Winchester. What they can't grow themselves they try to purchase from other local producers. And like good farmers, they waste nothing—their food scraps are composted, they use their cardboard boxes to suppress weed growth and they have two trucks running on used vegetable oil. Tony Ellis: One of Ohio's many distinguished bluegrass artists, Tony Ellis and his band, the musicians of Braeburn are keeping the mountain tradition alive. Ellis is also an award-winning bluegrass composer, whose works have been used by Ken Burns in several documentaries. Doc Sanders: How to Speak Crop Farmer: Professionals in almost every industry have their own lingo, and crop farmers are no different. So if you're confused about "combines," or dumbfounded by "double-cropping," you're in luck because Doc Sanders gives us a crash course in "How to Speak Farmer."

800371,RO CD-ROM
2008 0518

Boyd's Crystal Art Glass - For four generations, the Boyd family has been practicing the ancient art of glassmaking. Beginning with Zack Boyd in 1901, glassmaking secrets and formulas have been handed down from father to son. Boyd Glass still manufactures collectibles the old-fashioned way, with a man and a mold and not with an automated machine. Katie Lauer: Music from the Hills of Home - Born into a musical family, Katie Lauer has had a long career in bluegrass music. One of the first women in the United States to lead a bluegrass band, her music has taken her from the Kennedy Center all the way to Russia. Lauer has a local radio show on WNKU called Music from the Hills of Home. Worthington Steel - Early in the 20th century, Ohio was a major producer of the nation's much-needed steel. Today, though, many of those famous foundries are no more. One survivor is Worthington Steel in Columbus. The steel made there finds its way into many agricultural machines also used in Ohio.

Potato Chips

800219,RO CD-ROM
2006 0518

This program is on Ramseyer Farms in Wooster, OH. It is a family operated farm and under Ramseyer stewardship for over 80 years. The late A.C. Ramseyer started the commercial potato business in the early 1920's and sold them to peddlers and grocers from Cleveland, Akron, Canton, etc. It was in the late 30's and early 40's that potato chip manufacturers became interested in Wayne County potatoes and gradually the sales went from table stock to chipping potatoes. The potato chip is very popular and the quality of the potato grow is very import. This program provides some history on potato chips and the potato farmers that grow them. The Ramseyer Farms offers education trips to the farm for schools. In 1979, the Shearers wanted to offer their customers a better product and began manufacturing their own "hand-cooked" potato chips from a kettle. Production took place daily in a small facility on Harrisburg Road in Canton, Ohio. In 1982, Shearer's purchased a 20,000 square foot facility on ten acres in Brewster, Ohio, a rural community in southwest Stark County. This Ohio company is also featured in the program.

When Canals Ran Through It

800229,RO CD-ROM
2006 0518

In this Our Ohio heritage segment, the hosts visit Roscoe Village to learn how canals changed Ohio. The hosts take a ride on the Monticello III to see what the canals were like, and talk to experts on what life was like during the canal era. Farmers and merchants needed cheap, easy methods of transporting their goods. Canals had the potential to provide this transportation and open up new markets in other regions, specifically the northeast, for Ohio goods and products.
