

The

INFOhio Impact

December 2017

News from INFOhio

Introducing the Early Learning Portal

INFOhio is thrilled to announce the debut of the new Early Learning Portal!

Ohio's parents and educators now have access to the Early Learning Portal to help little learners ages 3-5 prepare for school and their futures. The Early Learning Portal contains links to over 50 websites and apps that are aligned with the Ohio Early Learning Standards and were chosen and evaluated by educators and librarians with expertise in learning and literacy. Adults, both parents and educators alike, are encouraged to explore these valuable digital resources with children, helping them navigate the Portal with guidance and support while laying a foundation for learning. INFOhio's Early Learning Portal comes from INFOhio's partnership with the Office of Governor John Kasich, the Ohio Department of Education, and the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services. Please visit INFOhio for more information about resources for early learning.

Since the Early Bird Gets to Learn, be the first to check it out! Visit early.infohio.org to see what the buzz is all about.

News from the Field

It's Never Too Early for Learning

Students in Brown County preschools use INFOhio's Early World of Learning and BookFlix daily as part of their curriculum.

World Book: Bringing the World Home

Missing his island home, Diego, a student at Little Miami Schools, found Puerto Rico's anthem on INFOhio's World Book resource.

ISearch Across Ohio

100%

of Ohio counties had schools using ISearch in October

lighter use

heavier use

Resources with Real Application

Medina 2nd graders use World Book Kids to learn to take notes on digital content. Students from 1st and 2nd grade share the information to create Google Slide Shows.

From Ohio to Outer Space

Cortland's 9th grade classes worked on a project about stars and galaxies using INFOhio databases. Students learned research skills and taught their classmates the entire science unit of stars, galaxies, and space.

Discover more about INFOhio's impact at infohio.org/advocate-for-infohio!

INFOhio
1500 W Lane Avenue
Columbus, Ohio 43221
614.947.7900
infohio.org

INFOhio
Optimized by the Management Council

