

15

For Educators

A sampling of Journals from Explora for Educators (EBSCO)

Explora for Educators provides a highly specialized collection of over 750 high-quality journals, including more than 540 peer-reviewed titles. The database also contains more than 200 educational reports. It is the most comprehensive collection of full-text education journals in the world. Below are just a few of special interest.

American Secondary Education. Full text from March 2001 to present. Serves administrators, teachers, and others. Examines current issues in secondary education and focuses on the major issues facing those involved with secondary education.

The Curriculum Journal. Full text from March 1998 to present (18-month delay). A peer-reviewed journal publishing research into curriculum, cross-curricular issues, assessments, and new approaches to teaching and learning.

Early Childhood Education Journal. Full text from March 1997 to present (12-month delay). Publishes articles on curriculum, child care programs, administration, staff development, family-school relationships, equity issues, multicultural units, health nutrition, facilities, special needs, and infant/toddler programs.

Education. Full text from 1969 to present. Original investigations and theoretical papers dealing with worthwhile innovations in learning, teaching, and education at all levels and in every area of education and learning.

Education Digest. Full text from 1990 to present. Each issue includes 12 or more condensations of recent periodicals and reports along with regular monthly columns and features. Covers the entire education field from pre-elementary to college.

Education Week. Full text from 1995 to present. A weekly newspaper devoted to education. Articles, profiles, commentary, legislation, state and national news, and book reviews for teachers and administrations in elementary and secondary schools.

Educational Leadership. Full text from 1974 to present. Articles presenting a variety of viewpoints aimed at leaders in elementary, middle, and secondary education and others interested in curriculum, instruction, supervision, and leadership in schools.

High School Journal. Full text from October 1996 to present (12-month delay). Includes articles about adolescent growth, development, learning, and more along with research on interactions in the secondary school setting and successful teaching techniques.

Instructor. Full text from 1999 to present. From Scholastic. Every issue provides K-8 educators with lesson ideas, classroom management strategies, professional learning, and more.

Username:

Password:

Internet@Schools. Full text from 1994 to present. An educator’s guide to technology and the web. Includes articles on online learning, assessment, tech integration, professional development, and more.

Journal of Adolescent and Adult Literacy. Full text from September 1996 to present (12-month delay). JAAL is a peer-reviewed literacy journal for teachers of adolescents and early learners. Includes practical solutions to overcome tough classroom challenges based on sound research and theory.

Journal of Education. Full text from 1995 to present. The oldest continually published educational journal in the U.S., this journal includes best practices in education.

Journal of Educational Research. Full text from September 1974 to present (18-month delay). Research on educational practices in elementary and secondary schools including new procedures, traditional practices, curriculum, and evaluations.

Phi Delta Kappan. Full text from January 1994 to present. Designed to advance educational research, service, and leadership. Emphasizes issues, trends, and policy decisions.

Reading Teacher. Full text from February 1990 to present (12-month delay). Published by the International Reading Association. This peer-reviewed, professional journal is for educators involved in literacy education of children to the age of 12. Practices, research, and trends in literacy education and related fields.

To Access Explora for Educators:

1. Go to www.infohio.org.
2. Click the red All INFOhio Resources button.
3. Click Explora for Educators.
4. If you are prompted for a username and password and do not know it, go to www.infohio.org/students/er/find-my-password.

More Resources for Educators from INFOhio

- INFOhio’s IMatrix (imatrix.infohio.org) helps educators practice inquiry-based instruction that aligns to skills embedded within the core content areas. By searching the IMatrix, educators can easily see how skills are scaffolded for students and find resources that will help them teach those skills.
- Curriculum Toolboxes (infohio.org/goto/CurrToolbox) are collections of resources on a variety of educational topics, including close reading, digital literacy, informational text, college & career readiness, note-taking, math, text complexity, and more.